Scott Recitals Friday Nov. 6th. Secure tickets at Dentler's.

Frank Lafountain raised a beet this season that weighed 16 pounds.

S. C. Creasy has purchased the Krug planing mill of I. W. McKelvy.

M. C. McCollum has opened a coal yard at the Espy depot.

"Casper, the Yodler" at the Opera House next Wednesday.

"Little Nugget" at the Opera House Monday night was one of the funniest plays seen here in a long time.

A. W. Duy has a bush on his lot on Fourth street, well covered with ripe red raspberries, for the second time this year.

Cards announcing the marriage of Mr. Fred G. Thorn to Miss Annie H. Buckman both of Philadelphia have been sent out. Mr. Thorn is well known here.

Don't fail to hear Mr. and Mrs. Scott at the Opera House, Nov. 6th. This is the second of the Y. M C. A. course, and is sure to be a grand entertainment.

A new trial has been refused by Judge Reed in the United States District Court, in the case of H. E. Sutherland, convicted of sending obscene matter through the mails.

Taylor Beagle of Mt. Pleasant township sold a six weeks old calf to E. A. Rawlings on Tuesday, that weighed 295 pounds. It was the largest for its age we have ever seen. The ordinary weight of a calf six weeks old is about 150 pounds.

Miss Marie Holmes Bishop of Williamsport, Pa., will open a Dancing Academy in Bloomsburg, Thursday, November 5th in Grangers' Hall. Children from 4 years old upwards at 4:15 to 6. Advanced class for the German etc., 8 to 10 Afternoon class $5 a term, evening class $4; reduction to families. Seven years experience. Miss Bishop is just from New York with the novelties.

Benjamin Lewis, proprietor of the City Hotel at Jamison City, was killed while at work at the splash dam, about two miles above that place, last week Wednesday. He was driving logs, and in endeavoring to loosen a jam, he in some way was carried over the dam, and his foot being caught between two logs, he was held under the water until he drowned. He was not alone at the time, but those present were powerless to render assistance.

The two greatest events in the history of the world are the Advent of Christ and the Reformation. Christ gave the Gospel to the World, and Martin Luther restored it to the Common people.

Oct 31 is the 374th Anniversary of the Great Protestant Reformation. Rev. P. A. Heilman will preach on "The 95 Theses or the causes that led to the Reformation," next Sabbath morning and the Third Commandment in the Evening, "Thou shalt not swear."

Mr. Charles White of Ohio, and Miss Lucetta M. Moyer, daughter of Albert Moyer, were married at the home of the bride, on Tuesday at 12 o'clock, by Rev. S. W. Sears, in the presence of a number of relatives.

The bride received many handsome gifts, among them being a case of solid silver forks, teaspoons and tablespoons from her uncles, Moyer Bros. Mr. and Mrs. White started for Ohio where they will reside, on the afternoon train. The bridegroom is a son of A. M. White, formerly of Orange township, this county.

May prosperity and happiness attend them.

The entertainment at the Opera House last Saturday night was one of the most enjoyable amateur affairs ever given here. Its preparation was under the supervision of Mrs. H. H. Grotz, Mrs. Dr. Arment, and Miss Mary Leverett. The costumes were pretty, the singing was good, and the entire programme was well carried out by all who took part. Miss Maud Runyon played the piano, and Dr. Arment was general manager.

So good a thing ought not to be lost after only one presentation, and strong influences are being brought to bear on the management to induce them to repeat it.

Shall We Have a Constitutional Convention In Pennsylvania?

In 1874 the people of this Commonwealth ordained and established a new Constitution. Since then the Legislature has, with more or less earnestness, been engaged in remodeling our laws to conform to its requirements. Seventeen years have passed, however, without any very serious efforts to enforce many of its most important provisions. The judiciary of the State has expended much time on its interpretation, and it is only within the past few years that its meaning has been so definitely determined by the highest Courts as to partially end the chaotic conflict between the statutory laws and the Constitution.

On the 19th of June, 1891, the Governor approved an act requiring the electors of the Commonwealth to vote at the November election for or against holding a Convention to amend the Constitution. The title of the act is misleading. It is called "an act to provide for a Convention to amend the Constitution," but the sixth section gives the Convention "power to propose to the citizens of this Commonwealth, for their approval or rejection, a new Constitution or amendments to the present one, or specific amendments to be voted for separately". In other words, a convention is to be created possessing and representing the sovereign power of the people, with power to destroy, alter and amend the whole structure of Government, and all the laws of this Commonwealth, and without any limitation on the exercise of this power, save the Constitution of the United States, which "guarantees to every State in this Union a republican form of government."

The Constitution provides an orderly method of amending its provisions without resorting to the extraordinary means of a new convention. To make its provisions more stable, and to protect it from sudden changes by every "wind of doctrine," it wisely provides that amendments shall be agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each House, then published for three months before the next election in two newspapers in every county, and then if another and a new Legislature agrees to the amendments they shall be again published for three months and submitted to the qualified electors of the Commonwealth at an election. Each amendment is to be voted upon separately, and no amendment is to be submitted oftener than once in five years.

In utter disregard of the great conservative principles regulating future amendments embodied in the provisions of the Constitution itself, the Legislature proposes a new Constitutional Convention. It is not called in the usual way, by first submitting the call of a Convention to a vote of the people, and afterward selecting at another election proper persons as delegates; but, with marked cunning, the delegates are to be voted for at the same election at which the people pass upon the necessity for a Convention. The object is plain. One hundred and seventy-seven members are to be elected; twenty-seven in the State at large and three in each Senatorial district. If the people vote for a Constitutional Convention these gentlemen will all be elected to office and receive $1500. In every district, therefore, there are at least three men whose activity and personal influence are secured by the prospective honor of so high an office and its emoluments to persuade the people to vote for this new Convention. Without such machinery the people would be indifferent and the whole scheme defeated. We are not confronted with such a serious condition of public affairs as to justify a new Constitutional Convention and the expenditure of $265,400 to pay the salaries of the delegates, plus at least $235,000 more to pay mileage, incidentals and general expenses, making a total cost of half a million dollars. No one should begrudge the expenditure of so large a sum if necessary to secure the best possible form of government; but, under existing conditions, the chances are that the money would be wasted and the end not attained. This is a most inopportune time to undertake the formation of a new or a general revision of the old Constitution. The electors will be required to vote on the adoption or rejection next year, when there is a Presidential election. National politics, involving most important issues, will engross public attention to the exclusion of State issues. The Convention may submit a new Constitution to be voted for as a whole, or it may submit "specific amendments to be voted for separately." If a new Constitution, or many amendments are submitted, an intelligent judgment by the average voter will, by reason of excitement and interest in general politics, be rendered impracticable. It is always hazardous to remodel a great organic law. There are many provisions of the present Constitution which are so favorable to the general public that powerful influences have for seventeen years successfully delayed their enforcement. Will we act wisely if we offer a tempting opportunity for their repeal?

The advocates of the Convention tell us that the amendment of the Constitution is necessary to secure a "secret ballot," and without it we can never have the Australian system. When the new Constitution was adopted the provision for numbering ballots was to be the panacea for all illegal voting. Now this very provision is said to stand in the way of honest election laws. The unwisdom of incorporating such provisions (which should be left to legislative control) in the Constitution has become apparent. But is the question so vital as to take it outside the provisions of the Constitution for its ameudment? It was quite possible to substantially adopt the Australian system, notwithstanding the constitutional provision for numbering ballots. The "new election law" is the work of astute politicians. Its evasion of the best provisions of the Australian system was not because of constitutional limitations. The law will not be one whit better when, under its own provisions a constitutional amendment shall repeal the section relating to a numbered ballot. The work of the hour is to create a public sentiment which will elect legislators who will give us a new ballot law with all the essential features of the Australian system, leaving the numbered ballot to remain until, by amendment submitted by the Legislature, this requirement of the Constitution can be repealed. A little delay can work no great harm. This great old Commonwealth can safely endure the present Constitution a few more years If we fail to adopt needed reforms the fault will not be in our organic law, but in ourselves.

It is the misfortune of our political system that mere politicians can seize upon popular reforms and pervert them to their own advancement. Desirable as the Australian system in its best form may be, there is more demagogism than statesmanship in the willingness of many of its advocates to risk the overthrow of the present Constitution merely to do away with numbered ballots, when the same can be reached by an amendment expressed in a dozen words.

There are times in the life of every nation when it is simpler to overthrow an existing order of things and to frame a new form of government than to attempt by amendment and reform to patch up the old. The rapid development of our country and the enormous advancement in political, social and practical sciences call for frequent changes in our laws. But surely the present Constitution is not so bad as to be incapable of amendment to meet all these requirements. I think the fatal error of the past thirty years has been to make Constitutions a compendium of statutory laws instead of a mere declaration of fundamental principles to secure stability of government, to preserve the liberties of the people, and to confine and restrain within safe limits the general powers of Legislatures. All this has been done on the plea that the legislative bodies cannot safely be trusted with power. The answer is plain; The members of the Legislature are elected by the same people who elect delegates to Constitutional Conventions, and if, through carelessness, they see fit to elect incompetent men, it is their own fault, and not the fault of the government under which they live. Indeed, I think that many of the constitutional limitations on legislative power are reflections on the whole system of free government, and tend to embarass legitimate development, as well as to encourage electors to disregard their obligation as citizens to see that only worthy men are sent to the Legislature. Every time a great reform is proposed we are called upon to amend the Constitution to give it a trial. A constitution of a great people should be as sacred as the "sacred books of the law." Its provisions, when once ascertained and defined by judicial decision, should never be changed, unless from some overruling necessity. The people should be taught to revere it and to look with mistrust upon every effort to destroy, evade or change it. In the past history of this country constitutions were regarded with great reverence, but, latterly, there has been so much constitutional tinkering that they are no longer the people's talismans, and he who now raises constitutional questions is looked upon as an enemy to the advancement of society.

If we are to have a new Constitution every twenty years in the State of Pennsylvania, with all the uncertainty and confusion which its adjustment to existing laws will create, we may well apply Judge Black's language and declare that: "A French constitution, or a South American republic, or a Mexican administration, would be an immortal thing in comparison with the short-lived principles of Pennsylvania law. The rule of property, which ought to be as steadfast as the hills, will become as unstable as the waves."

The present Constitution as a whole is a most admirable one. The error of its framers was in incorporating many things which at the time seemed good, but which had not stood the test of practical application, and were, therefore, only tentative, and fit subjects for legislative experiment. The experience of seventeen years has developed its defects. It needs amendment particularly, I think, in three subjects, viz: The suffrage and election article, to enable us to experiment with the Australian ballot; the judiciary article, to repeal the foolish provision that "whenever a county shall contain 40,000 inhabitants it shall constitute a separate judicial district," and the provisions relating to cities and counties must be remodeled to overcome the muddle about classification, and to permit fuller local autonomy, without reopening the doors to the vicious system of special legislation which existed prior to 1874.

When the people are fully aroused to the necessity for these changes, they can all be brought about by amendments submitted in the ordinary way under the Amendment clause of the Constitution. The amendments required will present single subjects in clear and concise language, so that any man of ordinary intelligence can comprehend their meaning and vote intelligently.

Let the politicians and overzealous reformers "sprinkle cool patience" on their "skipping spirits" and wait the consummation in an orderly way of the reforms they have so much at heart.

GEO. F. BAER.

Reading, Pa., Oct. 10, 1891,

Hon. Chauncey F. Black's Address to the People of Pennsylvania Favoring a Constitutional Convention.

The following is printed by request:

YORK PA.; October 15, 1891.

The bill submitting the question was passed through the legislature by the concurring votes of all parties. Such was the universal sentiment in favor of Ballot Reform, without distinction to party, that it could not safely be resisted, and even those most unfriendly to the reform and most interested in its defeat were compelled to assent to this bill. They did, so, however, it now appears, with the secret determination to try to deceive and confuse the people and thus to defeat the proposition and the reform at the polls.

A Constitutional Convention is the people of Pennsylvania in convention assembled. It can revise the entire instrument if it sees fit, subject only to the approval of the people at the polls. In this case, however, the primary object is Ballot Reform, and should the convention be called it would establish at once, without awaiting the uncertain action of future legislatures, the secret Australian ballot, the most perfect system known to men—which has absolutely restored purity and freedom of elections wherever adopted, which Ex-President Cleveland declares "Is essential to the maintenance of our free institutions," and which Governor Pattison said in his inaugural "is the one thing which the people of Pennsylvania most want and are most determined to have."

You are aware there is no way under heaven by which the secret ballot can be given to the people of Pennsylvania except by an alteration of the present article in the constitution on suffrage and elections. That article requires ballots to be numbered for the very purpose of their identification. It also permits each elector to write his name upon his ballot and to have it attested by the signature of any citizen of the district. These two provisions, which no law of the legislature can defeat or evade, make it possible, indeed, easy, for the contents of every ballot to be known, so that the bribe giver, the political boss, and the industrial boss, may buy and intimidate at will. Until these provisions are removed there can be no ballot reform in Pennsylvania worthy the name.

There are two ways of amending the constitution. Once in five years an amendment may be submitted to the people by the legislature. Such an amendment must be approved by two successive legislatures and then submitted to a vote of the people, having been advertised between legislatures and before submission. You will perceive that this is a long, tedious, and dangerous method, requiring years for its completion and encountering many obstacles. It is also expensive, costing possibly quite as much as a convention, without any assurance of the desired result at the end. The other method is by Constitutional Convention, the one recommended by the Governor and approved by both parties in the late legislature. It need not be much, if any more, expensive than the other plan, and it brings the reform with absolute certainty and without delay.

We say that by means of a convention Baliot Reform would certainly be achieved. We say this without any regard to the composition of the convention. Whether a majority of the delegates chosen to that convention shall be known by one party name or the o her, they would have no choice whatever in the matter. They would be elected for this purpose. Nine-tenths, possibly even a greater proportion, of the people of Pennsylvania demand the reform, and the man or the party who should, in this convention, called for that very purpose, venture to oppose it, would simply invite destruction. Those who fear that the bosses, the rings, and the corporations may control the people's convention and defeat this reform, indulge a vain and silly fancy. Neither this nor any other harm can be done in the convention. The party which should propose to do harm in it would succeed only in ruining itself and its representatives without accomplishing even momentarily its corrupt object, since the people would reject promptly their work at the polls in November and we would be just where we were at the start.

What does Ballot Reform mean to the people of Pennsylvania? It means legislatures aud public officials of all hinds responsible to the people and not to the political machines. It means emancipation from the rule of rings, bosses and monopolies. It means taxes honestly laid and equally distributed. It means lighter taxes and frugal expenditures. It means pure elections, and thereby pure government. It means, as Mr. Cleveland puts it, "the perpetuation of free institutions" now threatened by the use of money in elections and by the intimidation of vast masses of dependent voters. In this state two hundred thousand workingmen alone signed petitions to the late legislature for the passage of a Constitutional Convention bill with a view to securing the secret, free and pure ballot. With the emancipation from evil influences and tyrannical power of the multitude of dependent electors, whose votes are now used to kill the votes of independent farmers and other citizens, there will come an instant change in the legislation and administration of Pennsylvania. The beneficent provisions of our fundamental law will be enforced. Taxes will be equalized. Discriminations against the industries of our Commonwealth will cease. And government by the people and for the people will take the place of government by the bosses and for the bosses.

We ask the people of Pennsylvania, without distinction of party, to vote for a Constitutional Convention and for such delegates as they know will respect their will. We believe that no harm can possibly be done, and that the good proposed and practically assured is beyond all estimation.

RESOLUTIONS ON CONVENTION.

The following resolution was passed by the Democratic Convention of Columbia county on the 11th of August last, to-wit:

"Resolved, By the Democrats of Columbia County this day in Convention met. That we are in favor of a Constitutional Convention with a special request that a secret ballot provision be made."

On the 2nd of September last the Democratic State Convention assembled at Harrisburg and passed a resolution favoring a Constitutional Convention.

That Chas. T. Ellis is becoming a favorite here was demonstrated by the large audience which greeted "Casper, the Yodler," last night. Mr. Ellis is a most unique and excellent comedian and his songs have a peculiar beauty, characterized by richness and sweetness of voice that place him at once in a distinctive place as a star on the American stage. The play abounds in picturesque situations, has an interesting plot and enough romance and pathos in it to enlist the constant attention of the audience. Mr. Ellis' support was very good.—The Sun, Williamsport, Pa., Sept. 23. Bloomsburg Opera House, Nov. 4.

The services of Prof L. M. Newcomb have been secured by Morris & Harkins at the Columbia College of Commerce. He is a fine pennman, and expert accountant, and a graduate of the Zanerian Art School, and Lexington Business University.

Joseph May desires to inform the public that he will do butchering during the winter, and will take hogs away and return them all done up in good shape.

PERSONAL.

Miss Annie Ent is in Philadelphia this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Chrisman were in Philadelphia this week.

W. H. Brooke went to New York on Tuesday to purchase new goods.

J. K. Bittenbender spent a couple of days in New York this week.

Judge Krickbaum was in town last Saturday on business.

W. R. Tubbs and Capt. H. J. Connor went to Philadelphia on Thursday.

A ten pound boy came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wells on Monday.

R. C. Rishel spent the past few days in town. He is a graduate of this office, and is now Foreman in the office of the Nanticoke Sun.

Charles White, son of A. M. White, formerly of Orange township, now of Wood county, Ohio, has been visiting relatives here the past three weeks.

DEATH'S HARVEST.

Sylvester Pursel died at his home in Hemlock township, on Sunday last, aged 73 years. He had been ill for more than two years, from the effects of a paralytic stroke, which rendered him almost helpless. He was the youngest of a large family, but one of whom now survives, a brother, Isaac, of Buckhorn. Two other brothers have died within the past year. The late Mrs. B. F. Hartman was a sister of Mr. Pursel. He was born in the house where he died, and always lived there. The farm belonged to his father, and the deposits of iron ore made it valuable, and brought to Mr. Pursel a snug fortune. He was a man of kindly disposition and good judgment, and an excellent citizen. His wife survives him, also a daughter, Mrs. F. D. Dentler, and one son, D. Clark Pursel. The funeral took place on Wednesday morning, the services being conducted by Rev. W. R. Mulford of Danville, in the absence of Rev. W. C. Leverett.

John Penman, another old citizen, died at his residence on Iron street, on Sunday, after a lingering illness. He was born in Scotland in 1824, and came to America with his parents when a boy. Most of his life was passed in Bloomsburg. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and of the Masons and Odd Fellows. He was an industrious and respected citizen. Six sons and two daughters survive. His wife died last December. She was a daughter of Mrs. Mary Clayton, who died ou the same day as Mr. Penman. The funeral took place on Wednesday and was conducted by Rev. D. J. Waller, Sr. The Masons attended in a body.

Mrs. Mary Clayton died at her home on Iron street on Sunday, aged 78 years. She was a faithful member of the M. E. Church. She was buried on Tuesday, Rev. Sears conducting the services.

The Democratic meeting announced for last Monday evening at Berwick was postponed on account of the inability of the speakers to get there. Mr. Buckalew was indisposed, Mr. Tewksbury was detained in Tioga county by meeting with an accident, and Col. Freeze's voice was not in condition to make a long speech, and as no other speakers could be secured on such short notice, Chairman Townsend was obliged to telegraph that the meeting would not take place.

The Y. M. C. A. course opened with the "New York Stars and Mecklems," one of the finest entertainments ever given in our Opera House, and a good earnest of what the course will be. There remains five entertainments: "Scotts recitals," Friday evening of next week, Nov. 6th; Col. J. P. Sanford, Dec. 4th; Hon. George R. Wendling, January 26th; Ladies' Schubert Quartette, February 19th, and J. William Macy, March 25th. All this talent is offered in a course ticket with reserved seat for $1.50. Tickets at Dentler's.

Mrs. B. F. Savits received a check for $1500 from the New York Life Insurance Company on Thursday, the full amount of the policy held by her husband.

Miss Jane Hughes of Lime Ridge has opened a fashionable dress-making establishment in Mrs. Ent's building, Main St., and is prepared to cut and fit by the "Tailor system.

Hon. F. M. Tewksbury was severely bruised while in Tioga county making speeches He was thrown from a carriage, and hurt in the shoulder, arm, and side. He writes that he is sore, but not seriously injured, and is making speeches.

A Question of Nerve.

"Have you got any nerve?" asked my friend Simpson, as we halted before a saloon in Toughville, Mont.

"What if I haven't?" I answered evasively.

"I asked for information. You're a stranger here, you know, and you don't tuck your pants in your boots, or talk about your private graveyard, or anything like that, and as I've got to go in here and interview the proprietor I won't take you along unless your nerve will stand it."

"Go in," I answered laconically.

We entered a long, low ceiled room with a bar at one end. Several card tables were scattered about at which gentlemen of rather unsavory appearance and reckless manners were playing.

While my friend was transacting his business with the proprietor I drew a chair into a corner and tried to appear perfectly at home.

Taking a cigar from my pocket I calmly placed it between my lips and lighted it, when—whiz! it was knocked clear out of my mouth by a pistol ball.

I never so much as winked an eye! I did not even turn to see who had done the firing, but, with the greatest coolness, I drew another cigar from my pocket and lighted it. I leaned back in my chair and smoked with extreme nonchalance—I don't think I have ever, before or since, been so utterly and so hopelessly nonchalant as upon the occasion set forth.

As I smoked, the ashes naturally accumulated upon the end of my weed and I was just thinking of knocking them off when that unknown friend with his convenient pistol performed the service for me.

Every one in the saloon was looking in my direction, but I did not show the barest tip of a white feather. I puffed away, with head thrown back, and a dreamy, contented expression on my face that I would have tried in vain to produce under ordinary circumstances.

Again the ashes accumulated, and again that timely bullet removed them.

At this stage I found myself wondering how I was going to keep my nerve when that cigar had burned down to a mere stump and my friend's marksmanship would be required to pick it out from between my teeth.

But I was equal to the emergency, and when my cheroot was two-thirds gone I held it between my thumb and forefinger while the unknown shot it out with a skill that was remarkable. Then I dusted my hands, brushed the ashes from my clothes, and joined my friend at the door. Before we could leave the room, however, a man in a blue shirt and buckskin leggins, carrying a six shooter in his hand, approached and embraced me.

"Say, pard, dern my pictur if I hain't clean gone on yer nerve. Here's a buckeye that I've carried ever since I broke jail in Ohio en come out hyer. Take it en wear it in yer pants pocket fer the sake of Vermillion Pete, the all 'round terror of Bitter Creek. An', pard?"

"Well?"

"Say, I want yer to stand up there in the corner en let me shoot a dime off yer nose——"

"Come on here," said my friend Simpson, as he yanked me through the door by the tail of my coat, without giving me time to frame a reply.

But I was glad he did it. A dime isn't very thick, and then Vermillion Pete might have missed it.

Hint for an Artist.

There was a decoration on a luncheon table one day last week that was not ordered from florist or caterer. An uptown woman, entertaining a half dozen friends, had herself seen to the laying of the table early in the forenoon and closed and darkened the dining room till luncheon should be served. A few minutes before that time she left the parlor and ran down stairs for a final inspection. "Bring the clams in," she said to the maid. "I will open the room and luncheon can be served at once," and she hurried into the apartment, raising the shades and opening the blinds.

And then she stopped and said "Oh!" for there at the daintily laid table, his little high chair drawn up to its occasional place by her cover, sat her 3 year old boy sound asleep, his brown haired head almost touching the cloth, and one moist, pudgy hand resting fairly on its immaculate whiteness, and clasping between the limp fingers a red rose which he had evidently admired and pulled from the center piece, as its trailing way was clearly marked across the table.

It was a critical moment for the mother. "If I take him up," she thought quickly, "the traces of his presence will be disfiguringly there, and it is too late to relay the table. "I'll leave him just as he is; they are all mothers upstairs, and will see the picture he makes before they see the print of his fingers on my cloth." And the clams were put on, and the luncheon was announced, and Master Arthur was a very much surprised boy when he was awakened a few minutes later by a rain of soft kisses from a bevy of admiring women.—New York Times.

"There's Many a Slip 'Twixt the Cup and the Lip."

Ancæus, king of the Leleges in Samos (an island in the Grecian Archipelago), planted a vineyard; and so heavily did he oppress his slaves, that one of them, it is said, prophesied to him that he would never live to taste the wine thereof. When the wine was made, he sent for his slave and said: "What do you think of your prophecy now?" The slave made answer: "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip." The words were scarcely uttered when Ancæus was informed that a wild boar had broken into his vineyard, and was laying it waste. Ancæus, setting down the cup untasted, hastened to attack and drive out the boar; but he was killed in the encounter.

No Word Wasted.

The tombstone man elevated his eyebrows inquiringly.

The doctor, who had just come from the fine house round the corner, shook his head decidedly and passed on.—Chicago Tribune.

CHEATING IN HORSE BLANKETS

Nearly every pattern of 5/A Horse Blanket is imitated in color and style. In most cases the imitation looks just as good as the genuine, but it hasn't the warp threads, and so lacks strength, and while it sells for only a little less than the genuine it isn't worth one-half as much. The fact that 5/A Horse Blankets are copied is strong evidence that they are THE STANDARD, and every buyer should see that the 5/A trade mark is sewed on the inside of the Blanket.

To Visit California and Mexico via Pennsylvania Railroad.

No new feature ever inaugurated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company attracted such universal comment and attention as the series of tours run early this year to the far Pacific Coast, and now that another series is announced for 1892, not only covering the Pacific Coast but an individualized tour to Mexico, the land of the Aztec, is further illustration of the wonderful growth of the personally conducted system of traveling and the progressive move of this world-famed railroad. Each tour will be limited to a certain number of passengers, who will travel in a Pullman vestibule train, furnished with the luxurious appointments of the richest home, with ladies' maid, stenographer and typewriter, library, bath and barber, and smoking and library rooms, and an observation car—in truth an exact reproduction of the famous Pennsylvania Limited. The first tour leaves New York January 13th, and speeds directly to the Pacific Coast via St. Louis, Kansas City, Las Vegas, and Santa Fe The second tour, the Mexican, leaves February 10th, running direct to the City of Mexico via Cincinnati, Mammoth Cave, Birmingham, Montgomery, and New Orleans, with incidental stops en route. The third, February 24th, runs directly to New Orleans via Cincinnati and Mammoth Cave, and thence, after the Mardi Gras festivities, to the Pacific Coast. The fourth and fifth, both through California tours, will leave March 23th and April 20th, respectively.

The inauguration of this service last year was the theme for universal comment, and the warmest credentials of praise bear testimony to the high standard and perfection of every detail promoting the comfort and enjoyment of the tourists.

Such an opportunity has never been presented before to the people of the East of thoroughly seeing the vast domain of the country they so valiantly boast of, as well as such an opportunity of visiting the interesting land of the Aztec, replete with ruins garlanded with mythical lore. The rates for the round trip are exceptionally low, and include not only all necessary traveling expenses en route to the Pacific Coast and return, but also side trips to the attractive resorts in California, and several carriage and stage rides of interest. This applies as well to the Mexican tour, where the objective point will be the city of Mexico and side trips made from there, the rate including every necessary expense as well as hotel accommodations and side trips.

Itineraries presenting the full details of the tours are in course of preparation, and will be issued at an early day. In the mean time more detailed information may be secured by addressing Geo. W. Boyd, Asst. General Passenger Agent, Philadelphia, Pa.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Dentists seldom go into politics, which is all the more remarkable when we remember the pull they have.—Boston Transcript.

Dr. Meeker's Medicines are pure and a sure cure for whatever they claim. Lung tonic for colds. Speedy relief for pains, internal and external. Blackberry Cordral for bowel complaints, for young and old. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale by all druggists. Manufactured by H. C. & J. A. Olmstead. Williamsport, Pa. All put up in 25 and 50 cts bottles. 6-19-1 yr.

The man who owns a railroad never gets half as much joy out of it as the one who travels on a free pass.—The Ram's Horn.

With Ely's Cream Balm a child can be treated without pain and with perfect safety. It cures catarrh, hay fever and colds in the head. It is easily applied into the nostrils and gives immediate relief. Price 50 cents.

My catarrh was very bad. For thirty years I have been troubled with it—have tried a number of remedies without relief. A druggist advised Ely's Cream Balm. I have used only one bottle and I can say I feel like a new man. I make this voluntary statement that others may know of the Balm.—J. W. Mathewson, (Lawyer), Pawtucket, R. I. 10-30 2t.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

VOTE FOR C. G. MURPHY.

An anonymous circular is being distributed which purports to come from Centralia, and which opposes the election of C. G. Murphy as Associate Judge. There are several reasons why this circular should not effect a single vote. Such documents sent out at the last moment before the election, are never worthy of any notice. Anonymous circulars written by somebody who is too cowardly to sign his name, should not influence the vote of a single man. This circular is circulated in the interest of the Republican candidate for Associate Judge, with the hope of inducing some Democrats to cut the ticket, and thus perhaps affect the result on the State ticket. Vote for C. G. Murphy and the whole ticket.

If the democratic auditor general and state treasurer be elected the truth can probably be obtained as to how the state has lost over a million dollars and who is connected with the robbery. At all events we can prevent a repetition of the crime. Get out the vote.

On Tuesday next go to the polls early and take your neighbors with you. If three fourths of the democratic vote is polled Wright and Tilden will be elected. If the vote is not gotten out you are personally responsible. Let all work from now until the poles close.

New York, Massachusetts and Ohio will probably elect democratic governors. Can't we keep Pennsylvania in line and elect our candidates for Auditor General and State Treasurer? If you help to get out the vote, we can do it.

Reader, if you understand what is involved in the proposition to hold a constitutional convention, and think it a wise and necessary step, vote the ticket on which is printed "For a Constitutional Convention." If you do not understand it, and do not feel that there is a public demand for it, vote the ticket printed "Against a Constitutional Convention." In either event do not fail to vote for Fritz and Corman for district delegates, and for the delegates-at-large, headed by Hon. C. R. Buckalew.

The republicans are making a frantic appeal for more funds to help elect their candidates. They dare not go before the people, and so depend upon money to carry the election. It is time the people take more interest in the election of our state treasurers and vote for those that will put a stop to the present system of robbery. If you, reader, will aid in getting out the vote, Wright and Tilden can be elected by handsome majorities. Go to the polls early and work for the success of those that will stop the robbing of the tax payers.

Tuesday next, November 3rd, wil be an important election. There are no more important positions than Auditor General and State Treasurer, as they handle the finances of the state. The first, and therefore the most important, passes upon the validity of all accounts and should see that county trasurers are not delinquent. The scond pays out all moneys and invests the funds. Our state has just lost over one million of dollars, it is for the people to say whether they will continue the old system. Throw away party considerations and vote for those who will take care of the public funds, and the honor of the state.

A circular has been issued by the republicans, purporting to come from the Dealers Protective Association. The circular contains the republican state ticket and urges the business man to support it, because they represent the party which favors the repeal of the Mercantil Tax law. The fact is that Gov. Pattison on two occasions in messages to Republican Legislatures asked for the repeal of these laws, but his suggestions were entirely ignored. No votes can be obtained by such misrepresentation.

We thank the Dealers Protective Association for a copy of this circular, and the republican ballot therein. We have already cast the ballot—in the waste basket.

I've been a sufferer, from rheumatism for years and have been unable to obtain any relief at all. Salvation Oil gave me entire relief and I heartily recommend it. HENRY WINKEL, Baltimore, Md.

AND QUAY,

TOO, WAS "IN IT."

The following is a COPY of a DUE BILL found among the papers of the BROKEN KEYSTONE National Bank, and now in possession of ROBERT M. YARDLEY, RECEIVER.

KEYSTONE NATIONAL BANK.

No. 2315. Philadelphia, November 29, 1889. John Bardsley has deposited in this bank eighty-eight hundred and seventy-seven dollars, payable to the order of himself on the return of this certificate properly indorsed.

$8,877. G. W. MARSH, Cashier.

On the back are these indorsements:

Pay to the order of M. S. Quay.

JOHN BARDSLEY,
M. S. QUAY.

Pay F. C. Hutchinson, cashier, or order, for collection, account of Beaver Deposit Bank, Beaver, Pa.

J. R. HARRAH, Cashier.

Received payment through the Clearing House.

When John Bardsley went to jail, he had collected the following moneys for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which he had not paid over:

Personal property tax,	(1890) -	$622,013 11
" " "	(1891) - -	289,232 96
License tax,	(1890) -	367,604 18
" "	(1891) - -	1,497,54
Municipal loans tax,	(1890) -	86,030,80
Total, - - -		$1,366,378 59

About $1,000,000.00 of this had been in his hand since August 1st, 1890, and the Auditor General and State Treasurer had taken no legal steps to collect it, although it was their duty to do so on October 1st, 1890.

The City of Philadelphia has also lost about $600,000.00 in the same institution.

None of the experts have yet been able to discover and report where this money went.

The Due Bill above, shows that Bardsley got $8,877.00 from the Bank on November 29th, 1889, and sent it to Quay.

Quay collected the money through his bank at Beaver; and when the certificate was sent on the Keystone Bank paid it.

Where did this money come from?

Why did Bardsley send it to Quay?

On 2d November, 1889, Auditor General McCamant sent the money for the Magistrate's costs in Philadelphia to Bardsley—over $30,000.00.

Bardsley deposited it in the Keystone Bank, and on the 29th November, 1889, he (Bardsley) paid $1575 to H. N. Graffen, a clerk to Auditor General McCamant.

On the same day he sent this $8877 to Quay!!!

John Bardsley is in jail.

M. S. Quay is in charge of the Republican State Committee, trying to elect Gregg and Morrison to succeed McCamant and Boyer, and to displace William Redwood Wright with George D. McCreary.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Hon. James G. Blaine, the acknowledged dictator of the next republican Presidential nomination, has solved a conundrum which for several months puzzled the people of this country, by returning to Washington and resuming his long neglected duties as Secretary of State; but there is another problem which is yet to be solved—does he come as a friend or as an enemy of Mr. Benjamin Harrison? Some of Mr. Blaine's friends insist that he will again be the nominee of his party and that it is his intention to so shape things during the next few months as to compel Mr. Harrison to abandon the dearest desire of his heart by announcing that he will not allow his name to go before the next republican convention: but your correspondent does not believe that Mr. Harrison has any idea of surrendering the lead he has already secured, by barter of appointments for delegates to that convention, and which he hopes to increase by the large number of important appointments now at his disposal, which are undoubtedly being delayed for the express purpose of obtaining additional Harrison delegates. Six months ago Mr. Blaine could easily have carried out such a plan, but Mr. Harrison has made such good use of the absence of the man from Maine that it will be very difficult if not impossible now. One thing is very certain, if appearances count for anything, and that is, that Mr. Blaine's health will not interfere with his entering the field as a candidate.

Just around the corner from Mr. Blaine's house there was Saturday and Sunday domiciled another man from Maine, who less than two years ago was a rival for popularity in the republican party of Mr. Blaine. His name is Thomas B. Reed, more properly known during the life of the billion-dollar Congress as Czar Reed. He did not call to pay his respects either to Mr. Blaine or Mr. Harrison.

Senator elect Palmer, of Illinois, has in a published interview, given eastern democrats something to think about. He said: "The fact that the elections next week may change the whole current of speculation, makes it vain to engage in political prophecy now. I am hopeful, however, of democratic succes. It appears to me beyond question that we will carry Iowa and in my opinion, success in that State puts another Presidential or Vice-Presidential candidate in the field. Gov. Boies is a man of great intellectuality, and he has made a most excellent governer. The democracy has done and could do a great many more foolish things than to nominate Gov. Boies. He is admirably situated from a geographical point of view, and this is an important factor to be taken in consideration. He is much better situated than Gov. Russel, who I suppose will be a candidate for the Vice-Presidency if he is re-elected in Massachusetts.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Distress After Eating

Sick Headache

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." A sense of fullness and other troubles after eating? Then you need a "Pellet." Not one of the ordinary, griping, tearing pills—it's a sickness in itself to take them. But one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—the original Liver Pill, the smallest and the easiest to take. The easiest in the way they work, too—they're mild and gentle, but thorough and effective. Every part of the system feels their healthful influence. They cleanse and regulate the liver, stomach and bowels. Regulate, mind you. They prevent disease as well as cure it. They're purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels are promptly relieved and permanently cured.

They're the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

REGULATING THE SUN.

This young man regulates the sun by his watch. If you want a correct time piece, buy a watch at J. G. Wells'. He has a large assortment of gold and silver watches for ladies and gentlemen, of all prices, and will sell you one that will not regulate all the ills of the body politic, nor the ills that flesh is heir to, but it will regulate the moon and stars, and your son too, if you have one, and keep him from being late at school. These watches have even been known to move a messenger boy. The fitting of glasses a specialty. Eyes examined free.

Particular attention given to repairing. All work done by skilled hands. Next door to Post Office, Bloomsburg Pa.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Estate of Simon Fetterman, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed an auditor to pass upon the exceptions filed to the second and final account of the executors of Simon Fetterman late of Locust township deceased and to distribute the fund in the hands of said executors, will meet the parties interested, at the office of W. H. Rhawn Esq. in Catawissa, on Saturday the 14th day of November A. D. 189 , at 10 o'clock a. m., at which time and place all persons having claims against said fund will appear and present the same or be forever debarred from coming in for a share thereof. ROBERT BUCKINGHAM, Auditor.

THE FINISHING TOUCH.

In putting the finishing touch to your toilet do you always see that your shoes are in keeping with the rest of your make up? The shoes may be better than the other garments and still be appropriate, but if they are not up to the raiment in style and quality the effect is unpleasant. Dentler's shoes stand on their merits. His stock of Men's, Womens' and Children's boots and shoes, is infinite in variety, and quality, and moderate in price. F. D. Dentler, boot and shoe store, Bloomsburg, Pa.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.

Estate of H. G. Creveling, deceased.

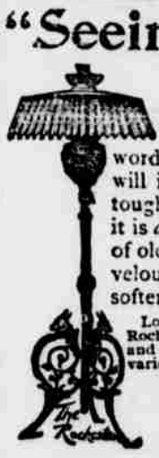
"Seeing is Believing."



And a good lamp must be simple; when it is not simple it is not good. Simple, Beautiful, Good—these words mean much, but to see "The Rochester" will impress the truth more forcibly. All metal, tough and seamless, and made in three pieces only, it is absolutely safe and unbreakable. Like Aladdin's of old, it is indeed a "wonderful lamp," for its marvelous light is purer and brighter than gas light, softer than electric light and more cheerful than either.

Look for this stamp—THE ROCHESTER. If the lamp dealer has n't the genuine Rochester, and the style you want, send to us for our new illustrated catalogue, and we will send you a lamp safely by express—your choice of over 2,000 varieties from the Largest Lamp Store in the World.

A Pleased Audience.

The popularity of Chas. T. Ellis attracted one of the largest audiences of the season to Music Hall last night. The performance was satisfactory, and the audience was evidently well pleased, as it frequently applauded and in other ways expressed its pleasure and satisfaction. Mr. Ellis is practically the whole show himself. He is charming in his character, his quaint ways, his pathetic voice and clever turning of nice points having diminished none whatever in interest and impressiveness.—Daily Item, Allentown, Sept. 30. Bloomsburg Opera House, Nov. 4.

Old Nursery Favorites.

There was Tom, the Son of a Piper,
Jack Sprat, and Merry King Cole,
And the Three Wise Men of Gotham,
Who went to sea in a bowl;
The woman who rode on a broom stick,
And swept the cobwebbed sky,
And the boy who sat in a corner,
Eating his Christmas pie.

These were some of the old favorites, but they have been supplanted by the "Pansy" and "Chatterbox" stories, "Little Lord Fauntleroy" and "Five Little Peppers." The Old fashion pills and physics have been superseded, and wisely, too, by Pierce's Purgative Pellets, a mild, harmless and effective cathartic. They are pleasant to take—so gentle in their action that the most delicate child can take them, yet so effective that they will cure the most obstinate cases of constipation, stomach, liver and bowel troubles. They should be in every nursery. As a gentle laxative, only one a dose.

SAFE-DEPOSIT BOXES.

The vault of the Farmers National Bank contains fifty lock boxes, which are for rent at prices ranging from $3.00 to $6 00 a year. There are two keys to each box, one of which is left at the bank and one is carried by the owner of the box. Neither can open the box until the other is inserted. More than half have already been rented. tf.

Mrs Susan A. Tate.

Although not unexpected, the announcement of the death of Mrs. Susan A. Tate at her home on Hepburn street, last Friday morning, cast a gloom of sadness throughout the length and breadth of the city wherein she had resided so many years and was so well and favorably known. She was the widow of the late veteran editor, Levi L. Tate, and it is said that during that gentleman's long and useful editorial career, his wife proved a great assistance to him in getting out the work that engrossed his attention. She was a lady endowed with a kind heart and a charitable disposition, a fact that many of the poor and needy of the city can vouch for. No one ever went to her for assistance that she didn't grant if it was in her power to do so. A gentle mother, a kind neighbor and an upright Christian woman, her demise is greatly lamented. Her age was 73 years and 8 months. During her illness, which continued over a period of two weeks, her sufferings were of the most intense nature, and death was looked forward to as a relief from the pain and distress she bore so patiently. May she rest in peace and finally awaken to glorious resurrection —Williamsport Sun.

Mrs. Tate resided in Bloomsburg for many years, when her husband was the editor of the Democrat, and many friends still survive, who will hear of her death with sorrow.

REMOVE THE CAUSE.—It is no doubt the correct thing to treat the symptoms of a disease, but this is not effective unless the cause of the complaint is removed. For instance, a fever may be treated with quinine, etc., but unless the cause is removed the fever will surely return. Again, the sores and eruptions of Scrofula may be healed by mercury and potash treatment, but unless the cause of these symptoms is cleansed from the system, they will return or attack some of the delicate internal organs. Swift's Specific strikes at the cause of the trouble, and forces out the germs of disease, and the poison through the pores of the skin, and at the same time builds up the general health of the sufferer. Swift's Specific is a purely vegetable remedy, and is harmless to the most delicate, yet it never fails to eliminate the poison from the human body. We will mail a valuable book to all who will send for it.

OLD TIME "SAND CLASS."

Sand Took the Place of Slate in the School of Long Ago.

"Sixty years ago I taught the sand class in the schools of this city in the Grand Jury room of the old Court House," said a gentleman to Gossip last evening. "The sand class!" exclaimed Gossip; "What in the name of Socrates was a sand class?" And then the ancient pedagogue proceeded to say: "Sixty years ago the schools of the town occupied the old Court House, and I was one of the scholars. In the Grand Jury room there was a long table about 18 inches high with a strip of board fastened on the top all around the sides, thus making the center lower than the sides. This center was filled with fine sand an inch deep.

"At the end of the table was a wheel on which the letters of the alphabet were printed so that but one letter would appear at a time; around the table the smallest children of the school were gathered, and each furnished with a stick. I, as the pedagogue appointed by the head teacher, would take my stand at the end of the table and alongside of the wheel, and as I moved it would announce the letter that was brought to view, which the children would proceed to make in the sand with their sticks. When all had made that letter I would level the sand with a comb and the wheel would be moved on to another letter. And these little ones were called the 'sand class.' It was an interesting sight, the system was somewhat like the kindergarten of the present day, and it was certainly an economical mode of supplying writing material." This was the sand class of 60 years ago.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

Identifying Ancient Cities in Egypt.

Dr. Naville, the well known Egyptian explorer, the discoverer of Bubastis and the treasure city of Pithon, has recently identified other cities in Egypt, more especially some connected with the exodus of the Israelites. At the close of June last he presented the results of his discoveries at a meeting of the Victoria Institute, in London, presided over by Sir Gabriel Stokes, ex president of the Royal Society. Dr. Naville found that the Succoth, spoken of in the Bible, was not a city, as some have supposed, but a district, and from a valuable inscription found at Pithon that the latter became known to the Greeks as Heroopolis, and that although now many miles inland it was once a seaport, the waters of the Red Sea extending up to its walls, and merchants' ships are described by Strabo and Pliny as sailing thence to the Arabian Sea. Through some recently discovered papyri M. Naville found that Baal-Zephon was neither a village or a town, but a shrine of Baal and a noted place of pilgrimage. The sites of other places discovered were those of Migdol, which in after days was probably the Serapeum of the Greeks, and also Pi Hahiroth. In the identification of the two last places M. Naville was greatly helped by a papyrus. The bearing of his identifications is of no small interest to the students of history, both sacred and profane.

HAVING A STAVING TIME.

This unfortunate wight is "in it," sure enough, but although he is having a staving time, barrels are not likely to soon supplant trousers, in polite society. Casks may serve in an emergency, but most people prefer to get their garments at G. W. Bertsch's. He makes a good fit every time, after the latest styles, at fair prices. Satisfaction guaranteed. A fine line of hats, caps, gloves, and Gents' Furnishing Goods always on hand. You know where Bertsch, the Tailor is, Main St., next door to First National Bank, Bloomsburg.

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Matthew's Lutheran church will serve a turkey dinner in the basement of the Old Presbyterian church, Nov. 13th, from 5 o'clock to 10 o'clock p. m. There will also be for sale a variety of fancy and useful articles. Come and buy your Christmas presents 23-3t

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

THE BEST SALVE in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For Sale by C. A. Kleim.

There's Music in the Air.

This genius is away up in G, and is engaged in the literal fulfillment of a very common expression. It is as seldom that musical notes are seen floating over housetops, as it is that bank notes are found growing on bushes. Our artist has therefore photographed them on the spot. The man in the picture is on top. So is J. Saltzer, the well known dealer in all kinds of musical instruments and sewing machines. He handles the Steck, Estey and Starr pianos; the Estey, Miller and United States Organs:

A STATIONERY RUN.

We are having a big stationery run, and yet there is nothing stationary about it. This seeming paradox is a plain fact, and is due to our affixing very low prices to very high grade goods. The goods in the picture are walking off themselves, but not nearly so rapidly as our customers are walking off with books, stationery, school supplies, wall paper, pictures, etc., at the old established store of

EPPS'S COCOA

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. A Young Girl's Room.

A YOUNG girl's room may be as full of costly articles as wealth can make it, or it may be the result of taste and ingenuity with but trifling expense, but the one who looks in upon it can, if choosing to take the pains to do so, tell at once the character of the occupant by the mere arrangement or disarrangement of the place. There is, of course, the pretty artistic ensemble that at first glance seems to be only confusion, but which presently resolves itself into a harmony of form and tint, any change in which would be discord, which tells something interesting concerning the artist in the arranger. Then there is the precise and prim manner, in which everything is at right angles; every book is exactly in position on every other book; no folderols are allowed; nothing that indicates a waste of time or a love of pleasure; and everything that indicates methodical, utilitarian, and exacting traits, with little love of beauty, indicates a character that will by-and by possibly make life a burden to every one in the house. There is the confusion, again, which is disorder, where everything has been tossed at random; there is no place for anything, and nothing is in its place, thus telling a lamentable tale of its first cause. And then there is the abode of neatness without fanatical and pragmatical effort for it, of order without primness, of grace and spotlessness combined; a room where a little of the artist is to be seen, a little of the precision and something of the perfect love of order without its caricature.—Harper's Bazar.

THE TRUE WAY — To rid the human body of the poison of disease, is to eliminate it through the pores of the skin. S. S. S. not only does this, but it forces out also the germs which make the poison, and builds up the general health at the same time. Do not take any imitations or substitutes, for S. S. S., for you will be disappointed. There is only one Swift's Specific, and there is nothing like it.

Mrs. E. J. Rowell, No. 11 Quincy Street, Medford, Mass., says that her mother has been cured of Scrofula by the use of four bottles of S. S. S., after having had much other treatment and being reduced to quite a low condition of health, as it was thought she could not live.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma and all throat and Lung Affections, also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge to all who desire, this recipe, in German, French or English, with full directions for preparing and using. When all other remedies for scrofula fail, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, if persistently used, effects a cure. Being a powerful alterative, it cleanses the blood of all impurities, destroys the germs of scrofula, and imparts new life and vigor to every fibre of the body.

A TRIBUTE TO THE SHEAVES.

All day the reapers on the hill
Have plied their task with sturdy will,
But now the field is void and still.

And, wandering thither, I have found
The bearded spears in sheaves well bound,
And stacked in many a golden mound.

And while cool evening suavely grows,
And o'er the sunset's dying rose
The first great white star throbs and glows,

And from the clear east, red of glare,
The ascendant harvest moon floats fair
Through dreamy deeps and purple air,

And in among the slanted sheaves
A tender light its glamour weaves,
A lovely light that lures, deceives—

Then swayed by Fancy's dear command,
Amid the past I seem to stand,
In hallowed Bethlehem's harvest land!

And through the dim field vague described,
A homeward host of shadows glide,
And sickles gleam on every side.

Shadows of man and maid I trace,
With shapes of strength and shapes of grace,
Yet gaze but on a single face—

A candid brow, still smooth with youth;
A tranquil smile; a mien of truth—
The patient, star-eyed gleaner, Ruth!

—Edgar Fawcett.

RATHER ONE SIDED.

Her Aggravating Coolness Broke His Heart.

She (cheerfully). "My dear, I should imagine by this time you had discovered how unprofitable it is to quarrel with me."

He (fuming). "I don't care a——"

She. "Careful, dear, careful."

He (with rising voice). "I don't want to be careful. I want you to understand I won't have these goings on any longer."

She (meditatively). "Goings on? What remarkable English! I think I have heard something like that in the kitchen; but never mind, dear; come sit beside me on the divan, and tell me what a 'going on' is and who did it; is it something awfully jolly that you men do at the club?"

He. "Now, look here, Amelia, I won't stand this any longer, I——"

She. "Well, dear, I just asked you to sit down."

He. "Don't exasperate me. You may be sorry. I'm dangerous when I lose my temper."

She (laughing). "Coo-chee-coo! B'ess um heart, Neddie dangerous! Oh, delightful! You wicked, wicked Bluebeard. Now, I ask you again, come sit down beside me and tell me what a 'going on' is, so I can get one."

He (fairly bursting with rage). "I will not, I——"

She (rising). "Oh, very well, dear. I must go out now. If I meet Jack Rivers I shall ask him to tell me what it is 'you won't have any more.' I'll see you at dinner, dearest."

He (soliloquizing). "Ugh! I don't understand it; whenever I try to be serious with that woman she makes a perfect ass of me. Yet when I fly into a rage at the office everybody is frightened to death. I won't stand it, that's all. And then to say she'd ask Jack Rivers what I meant—the very man I was going to speak to her about! I'll put a stop to it! Yes, I will, by——"

[Makes a plunge for the door, stubs his toe, splits his nail, then writhes on the divan in speechless agony.]—Truth.

Children's Books in Alfred's Time.

As might be supposed, the earliest book that is assigned to the child is the Latin grammar. Boys' Latin grammars for several centuries were mere text books compiled from the larger works of Donatus and Priscian, and they were commonly known by the name of "Donates" or "Donete," a term which occurs in "Piers Plowman." The word grammar, on the contrary, was used more in connection with Latin studies generally, and science, as well as even magical power, was sometimes spoken of as grammarye. A very commonly used school book in monasteries seems to have been the "Consolations of Philosophy" (in the original, of course), by Boethius, of which at least a fragment "would most probably be found even in the most meager convent library."

The earliest book in existence written expressly for boys is here stated to be Aldhelm's "De Septenario, de Metris, Ænigmatibus, ac Pedum Regulis," which probably appeared about the end of the 7th century. A great part of it consists of dialogues between teacher and pupil, in the style which was still popular in the first half of the present century, and may be found in such works as Mrs. Markham's History. The Venerable Bede is also claimed as a writer for the young. A lesson book for children is attributed to Alcuin, and it contains questions on arithmetic which are said to be found even in some current schoolbooks. Here is a specimen of them: "An old man met a child. 'Good day, my son,' says he; may you live as long as you have lived, and as much more, and thrice as much as all this, and if God give you one year in addition to the others you will be just a century old.' What was the lad's age?"

The first book given to his people in English by Alfred the Great was the already mentioned "Consolations of Philosophy," to which he added "The Universal History of Orosius," a very favorite book in monastery schools. In the 10th century, Ælfric, "the grammarian," wrote a "Colloquy," intended as a reading book to help boys to speak Latin. It consists of conversations about every day life. In one place a boy is made to say that he is too young to eat meat; but he was not too young to drink beer, as he says that he drinks ale, "if he can get it." In the same century appeared a book on astronomy for children, as well as a map, now preserved in the British Museum, "less incorrect and having fewer fabulous countries than some made later."—The Saturday Review.

In early times the Greek ladies, when called upon to take oath, would swear by some male god whose name was frequently taken in vain by their liege lords.

PASTOR KOENIGS NERVE TONIC

In Its Worst Form.

BENTON, Laf. Co., Wis., Dec., 1888.

Rev. J. C. Bergen vouches for the following: James Rooney, who was suffering from St. Vitus Dance in its worst form for about 1½ years, was treated by several physicians without effect. Two bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic cured him.

Would Have Died.

HOLYOKE, Mass., November, 1890.

I was in pain all over, could get no rest either night or day and was not able to do any work for months, but after taking Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic only one week, I was able to sit up and attend to my dressmaking. I had paid over two hundred dollars to doctors and got no benefit. I certainly think I should have died long ago if I had not got this medicine.

A Pure Baking Powder.

A baking powder that can be depended upon to be free from lime and alum is a desideratum in these days of adulterated food. So far as can be judged from the official reports, the "Royal" seems to be the only one yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely without one or the other of these substances, and absolutely pure. This, it is shown, results from the exclusive use by its manufacturers of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes which totally remove the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and it is used in no baking powder except the "Royal," the manufacturers of which control the patents under which it is refined.

Dr. Edward G. Love, formerly analytical chemist for the U. S. Government, who made the analyses for the New York State Board of Health in their investigation of baking powders, and whose intimate knowledge of the ingredients of all those sold in this market enables him to speak authoritatively, says of the purity, wholesomeness, and superior quality of the "Royal:"

"I find the Royal Baking Powder composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder, and does not contain either alum or phosphates, or other injurious substance."

Prof. Love's tests, and the recent official tests by both the United States and Canadian Governments, show the Royal Baking Powder to be superior to all others in strength and leavening power. It is not only the most economical in use, but makes the purest, finest flavored and most wholesome food.

A LIE NAILED!

I regret to feel that I ought to turn aside for a moment from the discussion of the vital questions made by certain opposition journals about me. I have in my hand a copy of the Farmers' Friend, a journal published by one R. H. Thomas, a republican politician. In it I find a letter from Leonard Rhone, advising farmers to vote against me because, as he declares, my "record shows me to be opposed to the farmers' demand for an equal distribution of the necessary burdens of government." In an editorial on this letter the editor declares that I appeared before the house and senate committee as counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad company and other corporations, and that I was perhaps the ablest of the opponents of and did more than any other man to defeat the "Taggart bill." It is a remarkable coincidence that the articles appeared in the Farmers' Friend within a week after Quay's boast that so far as these so-called leaders of the grange were able to control it, the farmer vote should be cast against me. I want to say to these two gentlemen that very important assertion or insinuation in this statement is untrue.

I did appear before the committees named on behalf of one client, the Lehigh Valley R. R. Co., to present an argument against certain provisions of the bill as unwise and unconstitutional. I did not appear for the Pennsylvania Railroad company, for I have never been counsel for it in any matter. That company was represented before the committee by Republican ex-Attorney General Palmer, while another railroad company was represented by Republican ex-Attorney General Kirkpatrick. It is not true, as declared by Messrs. Rhone and Thomas, that I argued against tax equalization.

Before I appeared before the committee I frankly declared to my client that my investigations had satisfied me that the owners of real estate, especially the farmers, were bearing more than their share of the burdens of taxation and that as compared with real estate owners, the corporations were paying too little; that I had confirmed this opinion by statistics collected by myself and that I must so state in my plea I might make for the amendment of the Taggart bill.

Before the committees I emphasized these views. I gave my reasons for believing that the equalization demanded by the farmers was just and ought to be conceded. When my argument was interrupted by a representative asking whether I thought that corporations were paying their fair share of taxation. I answered that in my judgment, as compared with farmers, they were not. I outlined the principles of a bill, which, if adopted, would have given to the farmers and all people of Pennsylvania tax equalization. When I had concluded my argument I was congratulated on my views by the true taxreformers on the committee; I mean by those members of the committee who stood for tax equalization even after professional Farmer Taggart had bowed to the order of the bosses and deserted his own bill.

Tax equalization was defeated, not because I argued for the amendment of the Taggart bill, but because the Republican bosses applied the whip and by an almost strictly party vote set it aside The charge of these men that I opposed tax equalization is contradicted and refuted by every private and public utterance I have ever made on the subject.

I say to Mr. Thomas that if he will print in the next issue of the Farmer's Friend my entire ungarbled argument before the senate or house committee I will be glad to pay for such insertion at the usual advertising rates.

It is also charged that I am a corporation lawyer. I happen in my own county to be the local counsel for the few railroads that pass through it I try their cases there as do other lawyers in other counties. I endeavor in these cases to give them honest service for honest compensation, as I do to any other client I may have. They have never asked more, and I assume they never will. The auditor general's office has charge of the settlement of accounts against corporations. I desire now to give notice to all corporations that if I am chosen to that office I will expect every one of them to make prompt settlement and payment of all their taxes, but at the same time I assure them that the office shall not be used as the hatching place for bogus claims and suits devised for levying tribute upon them for personal or political use.

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

IT IS SUN SPOT YEAR.

THE SIZE AND NUMBER OF BLACK SPOTS INCREASING.

A Smoked Glass Shows Them The Old Question Whether They Have Any Effect on Our Weather Is Naturally Revived.

The eyes of astronomers are once more directed with renewed interest to the face of the sun, which this year has shown a decided increase in the size and number of the black spots upon its surface.

These spots are great sink holes in the sun into which are descending vapors that are cooler and consequently darker than the surrounding surface. There is an intimate connection between the spots and certain explosions or eruptions that occur on the sun, by which vast quantities of glowing hydrogen and vaporized metals are cast up to an enormous height, as stones and ashes are thrown out by volcanoes on the earth.

The late Father Secchi, a celebrated Italian astronomer, thought that the spots were caused by the settling down of the materials thus cast forth, which has been partially cooled and condensed during their lofty flight.

Great sun spots are frequently completely encircled by tremendous eruptions, which sometimes hurl the dazzling substance of the sun 200,000 or 300,000 miles high!

We must not forget in considering these startling facts that the surface of the sun is not solid, like the crust of the earth, but probably consists of a shell of luminous and intensely heated clouds, in which iron and many others of our familiar metals appear in the form of intensely hot vapors.

Within the shell, which is formed by the partial condensation, resulting from exposure to the cold of outer space, just as vapor from a tea kettle is condensed into clouds of steam when it passes out into the air, the body of the sun is believed to be composed of matter in a similar vaporous condition, but even hotter.

It is easy to see that such a body can never be entirely at rest, but the disturbances that it undergoes, which are manifested to us by the appearance of spots and eruptions, become very intense, then gradually die away, and then again increase in intensity in pretty regular periods, the time from one maximum, or point of greatest intensity, to another being, on the average, about 11 years.

The latest maximum occurred in 1883 or 1884, and the latest minimum in 1889, when very few spots could be seen. Their rapid increase now indicates that the approaching maximum, which should occur about 1894, may be a memorable one.

Some of the spots that have lately appeared could be easily seen without a telescope by simply protecting the eye with a smoked glass. Any one can see the larger spots by fixing a spy glass in such a way that it can be directed steadily at the sun while a sheet of white cardboard is placed at a distance of several inches behind the eye piece where the image of the sun may fall upon it.

If the observation can be made through an aperture in a darkened room the effect is greatly heightened.

The question whether sun spots exercise any influence upon the weather, and if so, what the effect is, has naturally arisen again now that the spots are coming back.

It is certain that extraordinary outbursts in the sun produce violent magnetic disturbances upon the earth, and splendid displays of the aurora borealis, or Northern lights, which are caused by atmospheric electricity.

It has also been suspected that certain destructive storms, like our Western tornadoes and typhoons of the China Sea, are most frequent when sun spots are most numerous, but this remains to be proved by further observations.

A fact to be kept in mind when thinking of the influence of disturbances on the sun is that while the earth would be swallowed up completely if dropped into some of the sun spot holes that look to us like mere specks on the solar surface, the sun, on the other hand, is so large that although its distance from us is nearly 93,000,000 miles, yet only a little more than 100 suns laid in a row, touching one another, would reach the earth.

Going Early.

Punctuality is, perhaps, a characteristic American trait. At all events, American tourists abroad are given to bewailing the dilatory ways of other peoples. How early this characteristic is sometimes developed—in connection, too, with the American habit of traveling—is pleasantly illustrated in a little story printed in Golden Days.

A small, rosy cheeked girl picked up her doll and her doll's trunk and trudged a mile or more over frosty roads until she reached a railway station. There she boarded the first train that came along, and contentedly settled herself and her doll into a vacant seat.

By and by the conductor appeared. He looked down at the little woman, who was pointing out flying trees and other objects of interest to her traveling companion, the doll.

The conductor coughed.

"Aren't you rather early?" he asked. "I don't believe the doors are open yet."

"Dear me," said the child in alarm, "what shall I do?"

"Perhaps you had better go home and ask your mother," suggested the conductor.

And she did. She was loaded with pretty things by interested fellow passengers, and returned to her mother in safety. We may reasonably expect that she will be among the first visitors when the World's Fair opens its doors to the world.

One of the largest nuggets of virgin gold ever found in America is in the possession of Alfred Berke, of St. Louis. It came from an Arizona mine and weighs a trifle more than 37 ounces. There is very little alloy in the nugget, and it is valued at $600.
